Dear Host family,

let introduce you something about me: my personality, passions, goals and difficulties in my daily life.

My name is Luca, I live in a city in the North of Italy, in a flat with my family: my mum Angela, my father Antonio and my older sister Chiara, who now is living in another city for six months to study philosophy.

I love my city, every day I can get up and admire a fantastic sunset on the deep blue of the sea.

I have lots of friends, I am a solar person, positive and I always try to find the good things in all situations. I am really helpful and often I think to the other person before thinking of me. When I have a problem, before talking to my parents, I try to solve it by myself, and then I talk about it to them. The things that are important for me are: doing my best at school and obtaining good results, doing lots of sport and have a family proud of me and lots of friends. I love sports, I practice surf, skate, swimming and I do gym during the week; I am good at sports and during the weekend in the mountain I also go to ski. Of all that sports I am particularly interested in surfing and swimming so I'd like to find a family to share my passion with. I really like living my life outdoor and spending time with my friends, doing every time different activities. My daily life is composed of going to school the morning, come back home to have lunch and study, practice sports and then if I have lots of homework coming back home to study, if not going out with my friends. Organize all my interests, at first month of school was a problem, because I had lot of things to do and not so much time! So I started dividing my tasks during the week, facing the new challenge at the end I found my daily rhythm.

I have a family who loves me, they are really kind, affectionate and proud of me, I have a good relationship with them. My parents are doctors and they always try to help and sustain me in all my difficulties. I always try to do my best, get good results and grades also for them.

From the program I'd like to learn better the world around me and make lots of relationships with cultural different people, to extend the limits of my mind. One of my dreams is to learn to speak a foreign language as I speak Italian. I think that this experience would be perfect to improve me in all situations of my life.

At school sometimes I have some difficulties with Italian and Latin grammar, but I am really good in Maths and all scientific subjects. For this reason I'd like to become a doctor, as my parents, because, although it's a demanding work, I think it's a perfect way to take care of people and earn enough to have a wealthy life.

A big hug

Luca
